When I needed that info, I googled "EPA Region # tribal assistance program" There are different linked that take you to the tribe info. I just tested it out again to be sure that is what I did before.

For region 8 the link is <http://www2.epa.gov/region8/tribal-links>

For region 6 it might be http://www.epa.gov/Region6/6dra/oejta/tribalaffairs/pdfs/tribalconact\_04\_26\_13.pdf but I am not sure this info answers your question. I am not sure about the "nicknames"

This link is the federally recognized tribes..... <http://www.epa.gov/indian/datamaps/index.htm>

I hope this at least gives you a start, so you don't end up having to call each regional tribal assistance program.

Hey there,

I'm working on a project to better link IMRS and the DB. Who would be the best person to talk to about double checking to make sure that the DB names and the IMRS names have the right cross walk ? More importantly - we want to make sure that the IMRS are what the "nicknames" that are OK with the tribes since that's what we use for reports.
